Cook fish & shellfish thoroughly. Fish is cooked when it begins to flake & loses its translucent (raw) appearance. Cook fish until it reaches an internal temperature of 145°F for at least fifteen seconds.
Scallops & shrimp turn firm & opaque when cooked.
It takes 3 to 5 minutes to boil or steam one pound of medium-sized shrimp & 3 to 4 minutes to cook scallops.
Seafood is usually cooked under moderate to high heat (425°F).

You need a reliable, continuous heat source, so do not cook seafood on a hot plate.
Avoid interrupted cooking—completely cook the seafood at one time.
